

THE SOUTHERN MAILS

Among our exchanges from all parts of the South.

The Richmond Enquirer predicts the election of the conservative state ticket by one hundred thousand majority. At these figures Georgia must guard well her centennial trophy.

—Richmond shipped five thousand barrels of flour to Rio de Janeiro last Wednesday. It went in the British vessel, of course. Our "merchant navy" is nearer a "plantation fleet" than ever.

The Richmond Dispatch very sensibly deprecates the "Rilly boys" cry in the present campaign, as useless and tending to unduly excite the state. A quiet solid vote for the Holiday ticket is all that is demanded by the times.

—A Greenville special to the Richmond Dispatch says: Miss Mitchell, a young lady who has been on a visit to her uncle, W. F. Mitchell, jeweler in this place, was fatally burned Wednesday night at 9:30 by the breaking of a kerosene oil lamp. She cannot live as her injuries are too great.

NORTH CAROLINA. —The News says that, in a suburb of Raleigh stands an old frame building with one room below and one above, now dilapidated and tenanted, in which there lived, many years ago, a shoemaker who had but one leg; his wife had but one eye and they had but one child and he had but one arm. How they came to lose their bodily members is not known. They all died several years ago.

The Raleigh News has been requested by the superintendent of the insane asylum, to state that the institution is now crowded to its utmost capacity, indeed, far beyond the number for which it was designed. The same state of affairs exists in Georgia.

—The News reports the prospect for a largely increased number of students at the state university is becoming more and more encouraging daily. Already a number of new students that have arrived is larger than was anticipated in advance of the opening of the session.

—Salem Press: Mr. Michael Spainhour, of Old Richmond township, was severely burned last Saturday night while at work in a distillery. The liquor it seems caught fire, as did also his clothing, every particle of which was burnt from his person. Little hopes are entertained of his recovery.

—The Raleigh News reports that game is rapidly disappearing in that state, and calls for the most stringent legal enactments upon the subject of game protection.

—The Charlotte Observer shows up two swindling sewing machine agents and their photographs. One of them is a square man with brown beard, and looks to be about twenty-five years old; he does all the talking; Cumming, who has dark hair, light eyes and smooth face, and who also appears to be about twenty-five years of age, has very little to say. They drive a large, rough looking brown horse to an open bough with patient wheels.

—The Raleigh News gives an instance to show that cotton factories pay. A man invested $60,000 in a factory, machinery, etc. He turned out $40,000 worth of manufactured goods per year, while the expenses are not one half that amount.

The Raleigh Register: The guano act passed by the last legislature taxing dealers and manufacturers of guano in this state five hundred dollars as a license to do business and fifty cents per ton, is to be tested in the courts. An indictment has been found in the criminal court against Mr. M. T. Morris for selling guano without paying the tax.

SOUTH CAROLINA. —Eight daily trains arrive and eight daily trains leave Spartanburg every day except Sunday, making sixteen trains arriving and departing daily.

An organized gang of black sneak thieves are operating on the Greenville and Columbia railroad. They have made a number of very bold robberies, and have so far escaped apprehension.

The Rock Hill Herald of the 29th contains the truth in the following statement: On Sunday last three infant negro children were killed at the negro camp-meeting at Saele Hill, in upper Lancaster, by being thrown from a platform by shouting women. Strange to say, these tragic proceedings took place, not under the arbor where the main crowd was gathered, but in a little way in the rear. Not two deaths occurred in the same tent either. These circumstances throw around this extraordinary occurrence a horrible suggestion of murder under the guise of religion.

On the morning of July 1, Tommie, sixteen years old, son of Mr. C. C. Teague, living three miles from Newberry, was bitten by a cat while feeding his father's horses. The wound was cauterized by a physician an hour or two afterwards. The young man was taken to the hospital on Friday, the 4th instant, when the first symptoms of hydrophobia appeared. He found it impossible to swallow anything. This was followed with convulsions, occurring at intervals of about two or three hours. A breath of air, or the slightest noise, or the entrance of any person into the room would cause convulsions, or they would come on without any apparent cause. Sunday, the 26th, at 3 p. m., he died, just eight weeks from the time he was bitten.

The Charleston News and Courier has a correspondent at Saratoga, and the correspondent naively enquires upon his letter the statement that the paper shows "commendable enterprise" in sending the snake and seven-dollar-a-day hasi-ers.

TENNESSEE. —There are at the present time woolen mills in East Tennessee, as follows: Gettys Brothers, Riceville; McMin county. The Home, Home county, Greene county. The Marysville, Marysville; Blount county. J. R. Pepper, Bristol, Sullivan county; Doe River, Elizabethton, Carter county; Wautauga, Elizabethton, Carter county; J. H. Lewis, Bristol, Sullivan county; N. P. Jordan, Kingsport, Sullivan county; Kirkpatrick's, Rogersville, Hawkins county.

—Knoxville Tribune: Jas. H. Taylor, who was killed by the bursting of an emory-stone at Sweetwater, last Saturday, was the father of W. H. Taylor, of Tate's Springs, whose brown factory was destroyed by fire on Friday night last.

—Knoxville Tribune: Robertson is a coty of diversified industries. He is prominent in the manufacture of the staple beverage which bears his name, he is now turning his attention to another industry—that of picking and drying sun-dried apples. One hundred cases per one hundred pounds is paid. It is said that the women and children engaged in this industry make from 50 cents to $1 a day. The leaves are used in the flour process of tanning.

—The Asheville Sentinel states that a nest of counterfeiters has been found in the neighborhood of Gibb's N. Road, and a determined effort is being made to get the whole of the counterfeiters brought to justice. A man named J. H. Dean is in custody now, but the principal hand, Jenkins, is still at large. The whole of the Peyton's creek country is flooded with base quarters and half dollars that are said to be put in circulation by these men and their accomplices. One merchant alone has taken back over one hundred dollars of the counterfeit money that he had passed in giving change.

—All the magazine editors are seeking to surpass each other in the quality of the articles. The Atlantic, Harper's, Appleton's and Scribner's are continually on the qui vive to get the most attractive matter. But "Anders" has solved the question. He has published a list of the names of the writers, both at home and abroad, who furnish "a feast of reason and a flow of soul" to their readers. To cover all the sides of human interest, it gives a special department, not to be surpassed in Paris or Berlin. Here ladies get all things in matters of dress. The magazine is making a stir, and Cincinnati is becoming quite an entree of fashion therefrom. New York must look to its laurels.
